Diller Scofidio + Renfro is an interdisciplinary design studio which integrates architecture, the visual arts, and the performing arts. Based in New York City, Diller Scofidio + Renfro is led by three partners who work collaboratively with a staff of 75 architects, artists and administrators. Charles Renfro, RA, joined the studio in 1997 and became partner in 2004. He attended Rice University and received a Master of Architecture degree from Columbia University. Mr. Renfro has served as visiting professor at both Rice University and Columbia University, among others.

On Tuesday, 24 April 2012, the firm will be honored by Sir John Soane's Museum Foundation for its innovative work on museums and cultural institutions in the United States and worldwide. Recent projects in New York City have been the High Line and the redesign of Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, to name only two.
